- 1 The University is committed to reducing the environmental impacts of all its food outlets; this includes all food and drink served by the university. The food we all consume on campus comes with some real environmental impacts and it is the will of the University that we continue to work in reducing these impacts, by continuing to maintain our attention to the food that is prepared and offered to our students, staff and visitors.
 - 2 Making the food we consume on campus more sustainable, is a continual and long-term goal of the University of Bedfordshire.
 - 3 It is a responsibility that we take very seriously, and to this end the University has pledged to reduce various environmental impacts associated with operating campus food outlets.
